This Addendum to the BJS report, Federal Criminal Processing, 1980-87, updates tables presented in the original report to include final data for 1988 and preliminary data for 1989. Readers interested in tracing trends over each of the years 1980 through 1989 should use the original report in conjunction with this document. Readers should also refer to the original report for the glossary, discussion of methodology, and table notes.

The data shown for 1989 are preliminary since they reflect only those transactions recorded prior to June 30, 1990. It is estimated that the final figures, reflecting all 1989 transactions recorded prior to December 31, 1990, will include approximately 400 to 500 additional transactions.

The tables in this report are based on data contained in the BJS Federal Justice Statistics database. Source records for the database were provided by the Executive Office for the United States Attorneys, the Administrative Office of the United States Courts, the Bureau of Prisons, and the United States Parole Commission.

Tables 1-7, 13, and 14, which describe the number and rate of prosecutions and the results of magistrate proceedings, include only those matters handled by U.S. attorneys. All other tables, which describe the number and rate of convictions, sentencing patterns, incarceration rates, and length of sentence imposed, include all cases regardless of the prosecuting agency.

Years identified in each table refer to the calendar year indicated.

Bureau of Justice Statistics Announces the Justice Statistics Clearinghouse

The Bureau of Justice Statistics (BJS), in conjunction with the National Criminal Justice Reference Service (NCJRS), announces the establishment of the Justice Statistics Clearinghouse. The Clearinghouse's toll-free number is:

800-732-3277

Persons from Maryland and the Washington, D.C., metropolitan area should call 301-251-5500.

Services of the newly created Clearinghouse include:

- Responding to statistical requests. How many rapes are reported to the police? How many burglaries occurred in 1984? Call the Clearinghouse, toll free.
- Providing information about BJS services. Interested in receiving BJS documents and products? Register with the BJS mailing list by calling the Clearinghouse, toll free.

- Suggesting referrals to other sources for criminal justice statistics. If the Clearinghouse doesn't have the answer, an information specialist will refer you to agencies or individuals who do.

- Conducting custom literature searches of the NCJRS document data base. We can search the NCJRS data base and provide topical bibliographic citations and abstracts to answer specific requests.

- Collecting statistical reports. The Clearinghouse collects statistical reports from numerous sources. Submit statistical documents to share with criminal justice colleagues to: NCJRS, Attention BJS Acquisition, Box 6000, Rockville, MD 20850.

You have 24-hour access to the Justice Statistics Clearinghouse. From 8:30 a.m. to 8:00 p.m. EST, weekdays, an information specialist is available. After work hours, you may record your orders or leave a message for an information specialist to return your call.

Please put me on the mailing list for—

- Law enforcement reports—national data on State and local police and sheriffs' departments: operations, equipment, personnel, salaries, spending, policies, programs
- Federal statistics—data describing Federal case processing, from investigation through prosecution, adjudication, and corrections

One free phone call can give you access to a growing data base on drugs & crime

The Drugs & Crime Data Center & Clearinghouse is managed by the Bureau of Justice Statistics. To serve you, the center will —

- Respond to your requests for drugs and crime data.
- Let you know about new drugs and crime data reports.
- Send you reports on drugs and crime.
- Conduct special bibliographic searches for you on specific drugs and crime topics.
- Refer you to data on epidemiology, prevention, and treatment of substance abuse at the National Clearinghouse for Alcohol and Drug Information of the Alcohol, Drug Abuse, and Mental Health Administration.
- Publish special reports on subjects such as assets forfeiture and seizure, economic costs of drug-related crime, drugs and violence, drug laws of the 50 States, drug abuse and corrections, and innovative law enforcement reactions to drugs and crime.

- Prepare a comprehensive, concise report that will bring together a rich array of data to trace and quantify the full flow of illicit drugs from cultivation to consequences.
